Balfour Declaration

Foreign Office,
November 2nd, 1917.

Dear Lord Rothschild,

I have much pleasure in conveying to you, on oehalf of His Majesty's Government, the following declaration of sympathy with Jewish Zionist aspirations which has been submitted to, and approved by, the Cabinet

"His Majesty's Government view with favour the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavours to facilitate the achievement of this object, it being clearly understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine, or the rights and political status enjoyed by Jews in any other country".

I should be grateful if you would bring this declaration to the knowledge of the Zionist Federation.

Yours
Arthur James Balfour

Fall of Jerusalem

December 9, 1917 - Jerusalem's surrender party led by its Ottoman mayor, Hussein al-Husseini (holding the cane), surrender to Sergeants Sedgewick and Hurcomb of the London Regiment and formally handover the control of Jerusalem to Britain, after the Ottoman Army had withdrawn overnight (Dec 8/9) and abandoned the city.

Per several accounts, al-Husseini attempted to surrender six times on December 9. The first four attempts involved low-rank British soldiers who were either confused or did not have clear orders yet; the fifth and sixth were with Brig. Gen. C.F. Watson at 9:30 a.m. and then with Maj. Gen. John Shea on behalf of General Edmund Allenby at 11 a.m.

The 1917 Jerusalem Surrender Flag is perhaps one of the most important historic artifacts of modern world history.

It was allegedly torn from a hospital bed sheet by a nurse to effect the surrender to the British. It remains on permanent display at the Imperial War Museum, London and the Garst Museum, Greenville, OH.

December 11, 1917 - General Edmund Allenby delivers Britain's Proclamation of Martial Law in Jerusalem in seven languages from the steps of the ancient citadel (Tower of David)

PROCLAMATION

OF MARTIAL LAW IN JERUSALEM.

To the inhabitants of Jerusalem the Blessed and the people dwelling in its vicinity.

The defeat inflicted upon the Turks by the troops under my command has resulted in the occupation of your City by my forces. I therefore here and now proclaim it to be under Martial Law, under which form of administration it will remain so long as military considerations make it necessary.

However, lest any of you should be alarmed by reason of your experiences at the hands of the enemy who has retired, I hereby inform you that it is my desire that every person should pursue his lawful business without fear of interruption. Furthermore, since your City is regarded with affection by the adherents of three of the great religions of mankind, and its soil has been consecrated by the prayers and pilgrimages of devout people of those three religions for many centuries, therefore do I make known to you that every sacred building, monument, holy spot, shrine, traditional site, endowment, pious bequest or customary place of prayer, of whatsoever form of the three religions, will be maintained and protected according to the existing customs and beliefs of those to whose faiths they are sacred.

December 1917.

EDMUND HENRY HYNMAN ALLENBY, General,

Commander-in-Chief Egyptian Expeditionary Force.

PROCLAMATION

DE LA LOI MARTIALE A JÉRUSALEM.

Aux habitants de la sainte ville de Jérusalem et à la population des environs.

La défaite infligée aux Turcs par les troupes que je commande a abouti à l'occupation de votre Cité par mon armée. En conséquence, je la proclame d'ores et déjà sous le régime de la Loi Martiale, auquel elle demeurera soumise pour autant que les considérations militaires le rendront nécessaire.

Néanmoins, et afin qu'aucun de vous n'en conçoive quelque alarme du fait de vos expériences passées avec l'ennemi qui s'est retiré, je viens par la présente vous informer que mon désir est que chacun de vous poursuive son légitime travail sans crainte d'interruption.

De plus, considérant que votre ville jouit de l'affection des adhérents des trois grandes religions de l'humanité et qu'au cours de plusieurs siècles son sol a été consacré par les prières et les pèlerinages des pieux fidèles de ces trois religions, je proclame conséquemment que tout édifice sacré, monument, lieu saint, sanctuaire, site traditionnel, dotation, legs pieux ou endroit habituel de prière, relevant de n'importe laquelle des trois religions précitées, sera maintenu et protégé conformément aux coutumes existantes et aux croyances des personnes au regard de qui ces lieux sont sacrés.

Décembre 1917.

EDMUND HENRY HYNMAN ALLENBY, Général,

Commandant en Chef la Force Expéditionnaire d'Egypte.

PROCLAMAZIONE

DI LEGGE MARZIALE IN GERUSALEMME.

Agli abitanti di Gerusalemme la Sacra ed alla popolazione che vive nella sua vicinità.

La disfatta inflitta ai Turchi dall'armata sotto il mio comando ha avuto per risultato l'occupazione della Città vostra dalle mie truppe. Io per conseguenza dichiaro e la pongo sotto la Legge Marziale, e sotto tale forma verrà amministrata per tanto tempo quale le considerazioni militari lo considereranno necessario.

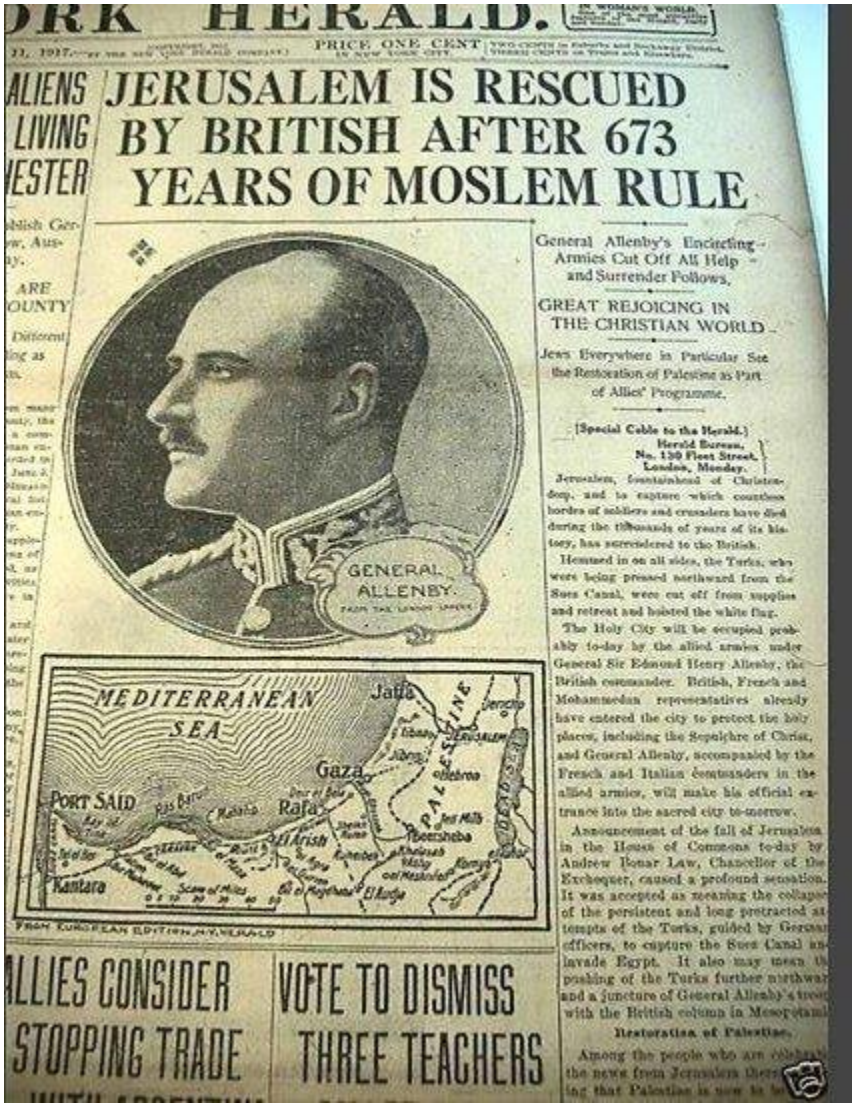

Tuttavia, se mai certuni si fossero allarmati per l'esperienza avuta sotto le mani del nemico che si è ritirato, io vi informo che è il mio desiderio che ogni persona prosegua ai suoi lavori ed affari senza interruzione.

Inoltre, siccome la Città vostra è considerata con affezione dagli aderenti da tre delle grandi religioni dell'umanità, ed il suo suolo è stato consacrato dalle preghiere ed i pellegrinaggi dei devoti popoli di queste tre religioni da parecchi secoli, proclamo che qualunque edifizio sacro, monumento, luogo santo, reliquiario, sito tradizionale, dotazione o pio luogo di culto o abituale di preghiera, di qualsiasi delle tre religioni precitate, saranno mantenuti e protetti conformemente agli usi esistenti ed alle credenze delle persone per le quali questi luoghi sono sacri.

General Allenby's Encircling Armies Cut Off All Help and Surrender Follows.

GREAT REJOICING IN THE CHRISTIAN WORLD

Jews Everywhere in Particular See the Restoration of Palestine as Part of Allies' Programme.

[Special Cable to the Herald.]
Herald Bureau,
No. 130 Fleet Street,
London, Monday.

Jerusalem, fountainhead of Christendom, and to capture which countless hordes of soldiers and crusaders have died during the thousands of years of its history, has surrendered to the British.

Hemmed in on all sides, the Turks, who were being pressed northward from the Suez Canal, were cut off from supplies and retreat and hoisted the white flag.

The Holy City will be occupied probably to-day by the allied armies under General Sir Edmond Henry Allenby, the British commander. British, French and Mohammedan representatives already have entered the city to protect the holy places, including the Sepulchre of Christ, and General Allenby, accompanied by the French and Italian commanders in the allied armies, will make his official entrance into the sacred city to-morrow.

Announcement of the fall of Jerusalem in the House of Commons to-day by Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, caused a profound sensation. It was accepted as meaning the collapse of the persistent and long protracted attempts of the Turks, guided by German officers, to capture the Suez Canal and invade Egypt. It also may mean the pushing of the Turks further northward and a juncture of General Allenby's troops with the British column in Mesopotamia.

Restoration of Palestine.

Almost 400 years to a day since Jerusalem, captured by the Sultan Selim, became the possession of the Turks, the Holy City falls at last into the hands of Britain, the true protector of the Moslem faith. The good news of yesterday deals a staggering blow to the German dream of domination in the East and to the Kaiser's pretensions as "keeper" of the Holy Places.

HOLY CITY ISOLATED BY BRITISH ATTACK.

Turks Give It Up When Cut Off From South And West.

ALLENBY'S NEW TRIUMPH.

London, Home Counties & Welsh Troops In Final Fight.

It is a long while since there was such cheering in the House of Commons as was heard last night when Mr. Bonar Law, in reply to a question by Mr. McKenna, announced the surrender of Jerusalem, after its isolation by General Allenby's forces.

The Leader of the House said:—

General Allenby reports that on Saturday he attacked the enemy's positions south and west of Jerusalem.

Welsh and Home Counties troops, advancing from the direction of Bethlehem, drove back the enemy, and passing Jerusalem on the east, established themselves on the Jerusalem-Jericho road.

At the same time London infantry and dismounted Yeomanry took strong enemy positions west and north-west, and established themselves astride the Jerusalem-Shechem road.

The Holy City, being thus isolated, was surrendered to General Allenby.

British political officers, together with the British Governor, accompanied by French, Italian and Mohammedan representatives, are on their way to safeguard the city and holy places.

General Allenby proposes to enter the city officially to-day, accompanied by the commanders of the French and Italian contingents and the heads of the French political mission.

The capture of Jerusalem has, in some degree, been delayed in consequence of the great care which has been taken to avoid damage to sacred places in and around the city.

THE MARCH TO JERUSALEM.

GEN. ALLENBY'S conquest of Jerusalem is the result of nearly a year's campaign. General Murray drove the Turks out of Egypt at the battle of El Arish on December 21, 1916. El Arish is 100 miles from Jerusalem, and more than half this distance has been covered in the last six weeks.

DECEMBER 23: Severe defeat of Turks at Magdhaba; 1,350 prisoners.
JANUARY 9: Rafa (on frontier) taken; 1,600 prisoners.
MARCH 27: 20,000 Turks defeated at Wadi Ghuzze (5 miles south of Gaza); 5,000 killed and wounded, 900 prisoners.
OCTOBER 31: Beersheba captured; 1,800 prisoners.
NOVEMBER 7: Gaza taken.
NOVEMBER 17: Jaffa occupied; 10,000 prisoners, 70 guns taken.
DECEMBER 7: Hebron captured.
DECEMBER 8: Jerusalem surrendered.

THE KING'S CONGRATULATIONS.

The King has sent the following telegram to General Allenby:—

"News of the occupation of Jerusalem will be received throughout my Empire with the greatest satisfaction, and I heartily congratulate you and all ranks on this success.

"Such an achievement is a fitting sequel to the hard marching and fighting of the troops, as well as to the organisation by which the difficulties of supply, transport, and water have been overcome.

"I rejoice to think that by skilful dispositions you have preserved intact the holy places."

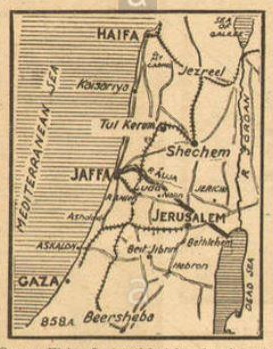

CELEBRATING THE VICTORY.

The Roman Catholics of London were the first to celebrate the taking of Jerusalem. As soon as the news was received the big bell of Westminster Cathedral, which had not sounded since the beginning of the war, was rung. At night a solemn Te Deum was sung in the cathedral.

Following the usual four o'clock service, a solemn Te Deum will be sung at St. Paul's to-night.

PRESSURE ON BAGDAD RELIEVED.

Referring to the Palestine campaign, Mr. Baker, U.S. War Secretary, in his weekly review, says: "The success of the British operations has had a very decided military effect throughout the Ottoman Empire. Much of the pressure which the German Higher Command had hoped to bring to bear in Mesopotamia with a view to recapturing Bagdad has been relieved."

400 YEARS OF TURKISH RULE.

Jerusalem fell to the Moslems in 1244. They held it until 1517, when it passed into Turkish hands, from which it has now been wrested by the gallantry of British troops.

Yesterday was, by a curious coincidence, the anniversary of the capture of the Temple of Jerusalem by Judas Maccabæus, 54 B.C.

CHAOS IN RUSSIA.

Japanese Land At Vladivostock: Chinese Troops In Harbin.

Speaking in the Commons yesterday, Mr. Balfour said that owing to rapidly changing circumstances in Russia nothing could be gained by the Entente recognising, for the moment, any Russian Government.

With regard to Rumania he could say nothing except that the gallant Rumanian Army, through circumstances beyond its control, had been compelled to enter into an armistice.

Lenin has cancelled all sales of Russian ships to foreigners since August, 1914, and will allow no country to charter a Russian ship.

The trend of the peace negotiations is having a bad effect upon the Russian people, and Lenin is now trying to saddle the Constituent Assembly, the second session of which was opened yesterday, with the responsibility for the traitorous action.

Some army groups want to clear Petrograd of "all elements of disorder," while the naval guards at Smolny Institute have been doubled. This is not the better to protect Lenin and Trotsky, but to prevent their escape.

Japanese troops have landed at Vladivostock to preserve order in Manchuria, where Bolshevists are threatening the people. Chinese soldiers have suddenly entered Harbin to protect Chinese citizens.

ENEMY'S FOOD PLIGHT.

Conditions Equally Bad In Germany And Austria.

Vienna's burgomaster, at a municipal conference, stated that the city had no reserves of breadstuffs. The milk supply had decreased by four-fifths.

General Hoefer, Austrian Food Controller, reported that, owing to the unfavourable harvest, the quantity of flour coming from Rumania would be considerably reduced. Germany could furnish neither flour nor other breadstuffs, because the conditions there were equally bad.

General Pragenau, President of the Provisioning Committee, said the people might be thankful that things were no worse. The sufferings of the Viennese were not nearly so great as those of people in other parts of the Monarchy. Some districts in Northern Bohemia had had to go whole weeks without bread.

THE HIDDEN HAND IN U.S.A.

Mr. McAdoo, Secretary of the U.S. Treasury, addressing representatives of "Liberty Loan" Committees, charged German interests with being responsible for "Liberty" bonds selling below par.

"The investigations I made recently," he said, "convince me that the hand of the Kaiser is behind certain sales." After remarking that thoughtless persons had been influenced to throw their bonds into the market, he added, "We cannot influence the Kaiser's people here, but we can put them into penitentiaries, and I want to see them there, for we must deal relentlessly with all enemies of America."

Independent Finland's new mercantile flag will be red, with a yellow cross and nine white stars.

In 12 months there have been 400,000 prosecutions for infringements of the Prussian food regulations.

The Treasury will pay £85 to the dependants of Mr. Edward French, of Gillingham, killed in a London air raid.

SNOW HELPS ITALIANS.

Prospective New Effort By Enemy May Be Foiled By Weather.

FIGHT FOR PIAVE BRIDGEHEAD.

All the correspondents on the Italian front agree that the present lull is but preparatory to another great enemy effort, unless the snow, which began to fall yesterday in the mountains, foils it. There have been extensive movements of enemy troops and much changing of gun positions.

There can be no question that a very serious offensive is at hand, says Mr. Julius Price, Central News correspondent. As one approaches the danger zone one sees the villages being gradually evacuated, though many women and children are still to be seen. Barbed wire entanglements and trenches are to be seen in all directions, but their value would be neutralised if the Austrians captured Monte Grappa which commands the plains for miles around. The whole communication line would be in jeopardy and the fate of Bassano in the balance.

The Austrians bombarded Val Stagna railway station (Brenta valley) with 40 large calibre shells, and completely demolished it. The firing was so accurate that they never missed their mark, and actually hit the same spot several times.

A novel method of warfare has been initiated by the enemy. Small parties of about six men each with a machine gun are sent out with roving commissions. One such party hit a general's car, and set it on fire with incendiary bullets.

On the Piave where the British troops are in the trenches the situation is relatively quiet. British and French airmen are co-operating effectively with Italian flyers.

Last night's Austrian official claimed the capture by Harvest infantry of the Bressanin bridgehead at the Piave mouth, with six officers, 229 men, and 10 machine-guns, but General Diaz reported its recapture in a counter-attack, enemy reinforcements suffering severe losses.

An Italian naval battery got a direct hit on an enemy bridge across the Piave at a time when it was being used for much traffic.

Rome last night held a great demonstration in celebration of the American declaration of war on Austria.

PORTUGAL TRUE TO ENTENTE.

New Regime Will Fight The Central Powers And Institute Reforms.

From Our Special Correspondent.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Monday.

Advices from Portugal state that Major Paes' new regime will continue the war and maintain friendly relations with the Entente.

Major Paes is ruling the country, which is in a state of chaos. Dr. Affonso Costa, ex-Premier, who was due to return from Paris, is believed to be in hiding.

From other sources it is stated that Senhor Bracamps has been appointed President, ad interim. Major Paes is bent upon re-establishing law and order and instituting constitutional reforms.

Reprisals against members of the old regime have been forbidden, freedom has been granted to the Press, and the decrees of exile against the Patriarch of Lisbon and the Bishop of Oporto have been cancelled.

The cruiser Vasco da Gama, severely damaged in the fighting, has been beached in the Tagus. Between 70 and 90 persons were killed during the revolution and about 400 wounded.

Food-profiteering played a large part in causing the revolution.

THE CRISIS IN SPAIN.

The Spanish crisis continues, but very little news is allowed to leave the country. Primarily, the cause of the discontent is the inability of the Government to form an opinion on the proposed amnesty to leaders of the recent strikes.

These men have been given very long terms of imprisonment, which has caused popular sentiment to veer in their favour. Military juntas (soldiers' councils) are also playing a part in the crisis. They can make, or break, a Cabinet, and it would appear that they are about to cease to support the Coalition Ministry.

They want the Army to be placed upon an effective basis, and their power grows daily. In some instances officers desire increased remuneration.

SCOTS' SUCCESS.

German Post On Cambrai Front Well Tackled.

DEFENDERS DRIVEN OUT.

Enemy's Guns Still Busy Round Cambrai And Passchendaele.

BRITISH OFFICIAL, FRANCE, Monday, 10.23 a.m.: A raid attempted by the enemy last night south-west of La Bassee was driven off before reaching our lines.

Another hostile party which attacked one of our posts east of Klein Zillebeke (south-east of Ypres) was repulsed with loss to the enemy.

FRANCE, Monday, 10.29 p.m.: A successful local operation was carried out early this morning on the Cambrai front against a post held by the enemy east of Boursies. The hostile detachment defending the post was driven out by Scottish troops, with the loss of several Germans killed or taken prisoners.

The enemy's artillery has again been active south and south-west of Cambrai. There has been increased hostile artillery activity also east and north-east of Ypres, particularly in the neighbourhood of Polygon Wood and Passchendaele.

BERLIN CLAIMS MINOR GAINS.

GERMAN OFFICIAL, Monday afternoon: On the Flanders front and on various sectors between the Scarpe and St. Quentin artillery firing increased from midday onwards.

In minor infantry engagements the British were driven out of several sections of trenches west of Graincourt. A British attack north of La Vacquerie broke down.

Monday night: From all theatres of war there is nothing new to report.—Admiralty, per Wireless.

GERMANY'S GREATEST ARMY.

More Enemy Troops On The Western Front Than Ever Before.

Mr. Baker, U.S. War Secretary, in his weekly review, declares that Germany has massed on the Western front her greatest army of the war, and remarks: "To meet this menace the United States must speed up her military preparations.

"Though the German counter-offensive at Cambrai won back less than a third of the territory captured by General Byng, it serves to emphasise the reviving strength of the German in the West. Germany, by leaving only skeleton divisions in the Russian area, has concentrated on the Western front a relatively greater force than she has ever been able to mobilise.

"The enemy may have at his disposal for the time a preponderant numerical superiority in the West; he may even be able to achieve some relative advantages in the field, such as recorded during the past week.

"The magnitude of the task before us can be more fully realised when measured with the success which the enemy is still able to gain. It is not sufficient to prepare to fight; we must prepare to win."

STILL COMING FROM RUSSIA.

Reliable Dutch reports state that fresh German troops from the Eastern front are passing through Flanders in a continual stream. The villages between Antwerp and Ghent are already full of newly arrived reinforcements.

GUNS LIVELY ON FRENCH FRONT.

Violent artillery struggles between the Aisne and the Oise, in Champagne, round Verdun, and in Upper Alsace were reported officially from Paris last night. Berlin also said the firing was of "considerable violence" round Verdun. The French repulsed German raids round Verdun and took some prisoners.

The Cologne Gazette says: "Czernin's last speech, which he said that Austria's interest was identical with that of Germany on every front, must show France what will happen if she will not listen to reason. A Tolmino, which is quite possible on the Western front, would prove a far greater catastrophe."

GERMANY'S BID FOR SUPREMACY.

The German Army possesses 273 aeroplane squadrons, comprising 2,500 machines, says Reuter's correspondent. These squadrons are divided into 100 artillery spotters, 50 scouts, 23 bombers, 40 chasers, and 30 battleplane squadrons for the protection of the bombers. The German output of aeroplanes is reported to be increasing rapidly.

SALONIKA FRONT ACTIVE.

FRENCH OFFICIAL, SALONIKA, Sunday: The artillery activity has again assumed greater intensity on both sides of the Vardar and in the Lakes region. On the Struma British troops took some prisoners in patrol encounters.

Captain Norman Chamberlain, Grenadier Guards, a former member of Birmingham City Council, and nephew of Joseph Chamberlain, is reported missing since November 30.

Al-Qibly Mosque
Al-Qibly Mosque is the first physical structure built by Muslims inside the Al-Aqsa compound. After Muslims first entered Jerusalem in 638 AD, Caliph Umar built a simple mosque on its southern part. Al-Aqsa Mosque as we know it today was initiated by Caliph Abd Al-Malik. The mosque is a square building made of seven naves. The biggest of them, in the center, is topped with a magnificent silver dome.
Porch
The door in the middle of the building's northern facade is the mosque's main entrance. All seven doors lead inside the mosque where the seven naves overlap with no physical barriers between them other than stone and marble columns.

Holy Rock
The Dome of the Rock
The Caliph Abd Al-Malik ordered the building of the golden dome in 691 AD on the highest spot of Al-Aqsa Mosque. The earliest existing model of Islamic architecture, the Dome sits on top of an octagonal-shaped building with four doors. A number of arched gates surround the structure but they only serve a decorative function.
Al-Buraq Wall
According to Muslim tradition, this is the wall where Prophet Muhammad tied his winged creature, Al-Buraq, before ascending to heaven on his journey from Makkah to Jerusalem (Al-Isra wa Al-Miraj), where he received his revelations of Islam and led the other prophets in prayer.
The Islamic Museum
Established in 1923 by the Supreme Islamic Council, it is housed at Al-Ribat Al-Mansouri, located opposite the Islamic Waqf headquarters. In 1929 it was moved from there to its current location at the southwestern corner of the compound, next to the Gate of the Moroccans.
